RE: Recommendation

Dear Scott,

Please allow this to serve as a recommendation for Hunter Investigative Group. I have worked with you, your investigators and staff on multiple cases and matters in the past, including background investigations, locating witnesses for interviews and conducting surveillance. Hunter Investigative Group has always been responsive to requests for assistance and has done an exceptional job on each case. I highly recommend Hunter Investigative Group for outside investigation.

Should anyone require any additional information regarding my experience with your firm, they are free to call me for additional information.

Very truly yours,

ALVERSON TAYLOR & SANDERS

Re: Letter of Recommendation

Dear Scott:

I just wanted to thank you for the stellar job you and your company have provided us. Because of the investigative work of your company, you saved one of my clients millions of dollars. You have also proved instrumental in another multi-million-dollar case that will greatly benefit one of my other clients. The reason I use your services is because you are professional, exceptional at your job and keep me in constant contact regarding my cases. There is no doubt that if I need investigative work in the future that I will use you and your company. You clearly have the best independent outside investigative team in town. Looking forward to working with you again. Thank you.

Very truly yours,

SALTZMAN MUGAN DUSHOFF

RE: Thank you and Recommendation

Scott,

Please accept my sincere thanks for the exceptional work you did in our investigation.

Please feel free to use this letter as my recommendation that others engage your firm. In that regard, I can report that this firm represents a client with an interest in a large and well-known business. Information came to light that suggested that an independent outside investigation was warranted. Mr. Hunter was retained to independently investigate and report his findings. He did an exceptional job under stunningly difficult conditions. The investigation, documentation and presentation could not be described as anything less than superb. I recommend him without reservation.

I cannot reveal any details of our client or the business but invite anyone who wishes to ask questions about our experience with your firm to call me.

Regards,

Christopher T. Vickers, JD, MBA

Re: Recommendation

Scott:

Thank you for your outstanding work on various matters over the years. You are welcome to use this letter of recommendation as you see fit. I would be happy to speak with anyone who may want more information about you and your excellent services.

I am legal counsel to an international company. A homicide occurred near that company's office and impacted a number of employees in various complex ways. I needed an experienced and professional investigator to handle the matter. Working with former FBI officers, I received several recommendations to contact Scott Hunter.

Scott was extremely responsive and quickly engaged on the investigation. In a matter of days, he suggested strategies, interviewed numerous employees, prepared transcripts, performed social media and other investigations, unraveled a complex plot and delivered a final report. He demonstrated the ability to work successfully with corporate officers at the highest level as well as with employees at entry level and from many different economic and cultural backgrounds. He also helped coordinate the matter with law enforcement. All the work was performed with honesty and integrity ahead of schedule and under budget. Scott and his team were totally dedicated to the mission and responsive to communications at all times of the day and night in a fast-moving situation.

I have since used Scott on other assignments with equal professionalism, efficiency, integrity and success. In addition to being a professional, I also consider Scott to be a friend and great person. I highly recommend Scott and his team for the finest levels of service.

Sincerely,

Mark F. Nelson
